DEC. 2023

Merry Christmas, Happy Holidays, and Wishing You a Great Holiday Season!

It is that time of year again! The time when we get together with family and friends to celebrate the birth of Christ. The time when we look forward and make resolutions to ring in in the New Year.

I wish everyone the warmest of wishes, the brightest of seasons and happiest of times. Thank you for entrusting me with the privilege to represent you in our Parliament.

HO, HO, HO and Merry Christmas to All!

Sincerely,

Brad Redekopp

Carbon Tax is Leaving You in the Cold – Just the Way the NDP-Liberals Want It

After eight years of this costly NDP-Liberal coalition government in Ottawa, Canadians cannot afford the cost anymore. On the prairies we know this, and finally the rest of Canada is waking up too. Folks in the Maritimes are joining us in our revolt against the NDP-Liberal Carbon Tax.

Feeling the heat of his sagging political fortunes in Atlantic Canada, Justin Trudeau announced the removal of the Carbon Tax on home heating oil in November. Home heating oil, as dirty and spewing of CO2 as it is, is the primary form of heating homes out east—where the Liberals need to re-elect their MPs if they wish to stave off a Pierre Poilievre Conservative government in the next election.

This slashing of the carbon tax does not apply to safe, clean natural gas, such as what is used here on the prairies. In fact, one Liberal Minister from Newfoundland, went on CTV news to chastise Alberta and Saskatchewan for not electing Liberal MPs.

She stated that if you don't vote

Liberal, the Prime Minister doesn't care about you.

Our Conservative Leader Pierre Poilievre responded in the classiest way possible – he brought a motion in front of Parliament, simply asking the government to offer the same treatment for all of Canada that Trudeau was giving to the privileged few out east. Of course, the Liberals voted against this motion.

This is why it is time for common-sense Conservatives. LET'S BRING IT HOME!
